

Guide to referencing SLCP or SLCP verified data in public communications

Talking about SLCP in your corporate responsibility or sustainability report

We encourage companies adopting SLCP to mention SLCP implementation in annual corporate responsibility or sustainability reports. Below you can find some standard text introducing SLCP, ideas for content to include in your sustainability report and logos to use.

SLCP standard text

The Social & Labor Convergence Program (SLCP) is a multi-stakeholder initiative that has developed and implemented a Converged Assessment Framework (CAF) to reduce audit fatigue and provide high quality, credible and actionable social and labor data. By eliminating duplicative social audits, SLCP helps users free-up resources currently spent on auditing, so that they can be reinvested in improving working conditions. For more information visit www.slconvergence.org.

Ideas for content:

- How your company is implementing SLCP – progress to-date
- Why your company is implementing SLCP – how does it fit into your wider strategy?
- Impact of SLCP – what have been the positive benefits in your supply chain so far?
- Your company's commitment to SLCP: what is your plan/ end goal?

Important to note:

SLCP does not provide certification and there is no pass/ fail for an SLCP verified assessment. Please do not use language such as "SLCP certified" in your communications.

Logos to use:

- SLCP logo with transparent background (.eps and .png format)
- SLCP logo with white background (.png format)

By using the above logos, the user acknowledges and agrees that SLCP is the owner by virtue of use of all right, title, and interest in and to the SLCP Logo, and the marks "SLCP" and "Social & Labor Convergence" and that any trademark rights and goodwill emanating out of the use of the SLCP Logo and the marks "SLCP" and "Social & Labor Convergence" shall inure to the benefit of SLCP. In addition, the user acknowledges and agrees that SLCP is the sole owner of all right, title, and interest in any and all copyright rights in the SLCP logo.
